

New England Ophthalmological Society

Dear NEOS Members:

As I reported in the September program, NEOS has established a “twinning” relationship between NEOS and the Irish College of Ophthalmologists (ICO) with the encouragement and assistance of the American Academy of Ophthalmology.

Last year, the ICO meeting was excellent in both organization and content, and a wonderful opportunity to meet our colleagues in Ireland. We are now pleased to announce that the ICO has invited all NEOS members to attend their 2010 Annual Conference, to be held in Dublin, April 28-30th. An initial program is attached.

If you are interested in travel to Ireland to attend the ICO meeting, hotel rooms have been reserved through the ICO at the Shelbourne Hotel ($272/night) and Buswells Hotel ($176/night) close to the meeting site in central Dublin. Aer Lingus, the Irish national airline, offers economical flights to Dublin and Shannon. For additional meeting information, hotel reservations and other inquiries, please refer to the ICO website at <http://www.seeico.com> or contact the Siobhan Kelly in the ICO office at ico@rcsi.ie.

As you will no doubt note, the date conflicts with our own April 30th meeting –though this was unavoidable this year, we will make every effort to coordinate meeting dates with ICO to avoid this in the future.

I will look forward to seeing you in Dublin!

Best regards for the holidays,

Charles Zacks, MD
President
